

New Jersey Young Farmer Competes in San Juan

Former NJ YFAP Chair and Somerset County farmer Shannon Oiler represented the Garden State in the national Excellence in Agriculture competition at the AFBF convention in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Shannon is the farm manager at Norz Hill Farm in Hillsborough, NJ. Shannon and her fellow competitors from around the country were evaluated on their understanding of agricultural issues, leadership experiences and achievement, and their ability to communicate their agricultural story. Competition judges evaluated both a written application and a 20 minute PowerPoint presentation.

Congratulations to Shannon for taking on this challenging event and representing herself, her employers and New Jersey Farm Bureau YFAP so well!
